
Creative Commons Author's Certification and Copyright and License Agreement

Author's certification:

In submitting a report or research article to any series published by the International Ocean Discovery Program (IODP), the author(s) certify that

1. They are authorized by their co-authors to enter into these arrangements.
2. The work has not been published and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere.
3. Publication has been approved by all the author(s) and by the responsible authorities of each author's institute, if required.
4. The material submitted does not infringe on any published or copyrighted material or the right to reproduce any material that has already been published or copyrighted elsewhere has been secured.
5. They agree to the following license and copyright agreement (below):

Copyright and license agreement

- Copyright on any work published by the International Ocean Discovery Program (IODP) is retained by the author(s).
- The author(s) grant IODP license to publish the article and identify itself as the original publisher.
- The author(s) grant any third party the right to use the article freely as long as its original authors and citation details are identified.
- The work and any associated published material is distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.
